Back-To-Back Plane Hijackings Make 10 So Far

MIAMI (AP) — Two U.S. airliners made back-to-back landings in Havana under hijackers' commands Tuesday as January's toll of pirated commercial aircraft soared to 10—half of last year's record number of airliners hijacked to the Cuban capital.

An Eastern Airlines jet, hijacked Tuesday night with 105 passengers and a crew of eight aboard, completed the round trip to Havana early today. The crew and eight passengers returned to Miami to tell of being ordered to Havana by three Negroes in "typical hippie dress" and alligator shoes.

Capt. Robert J. Sullivan said one of the hippie hijackers issued the order to change course while holding a gun at the neck of a stewardess.

Stewardess Roberta Truppmann said, "He grabbed me and said, 'I want you to call the crew. I don't want to have to hurt you.'"

She said he kicked open the cabin door and entered with her. A second man took up a station outside the cockpit door.

Miss Truppmann said one of the air pirates told her they were going to join "Fidel's military." She said they were all in their 20s or early 30s.

Authorities in Miami said two prop-jet Electras would be sent to Cuba after daybreak to pick up the other passengers aboard the Eastern jet.

The 30 passengers and crew members aboard a National Airlines jet hijacked over the Gulf of Mexico Tuesday morning returned to Miami later in the day, leaving in Havana two men who said they were fugitives from a California prison.

It was the third time this year that back-to-back hijackings of commercial airliners have occurred, making January the busiest month for sky pirates since the wave of hijackings began more than a decade ago.

Keaton Decision In Sanity Probe Weeks Away

Sanity of Cleo Vernon Keaton will not be ruled on for several weeks, according to Franklin County Common Pleas Court Judge Myron Gessaman, who is presiding over the hearings.

After the second day of testimony Tuesday, Judge Gessaman told attorneys for the defense and prosecution that they have until Feb. 15, to file additional briefs in the case. Gessaman is expected to render his decision several weeks after that.

The sanity hearing is the latest of several attempts to keep Keaton from the electric chair. Keaton's execution was ordered in 1965 by Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer. A local jury had found Keaton guilty of the murder of Maurice Francis, Williamsport.

THE most recent execution date set for Keaton was Nov. 8. However a stay of execution was ordered at the request of Ohio Penitentiary Warden Cardwell, who stated that "Keaton is seriously ill."

Under Ohio law an "insane" person cannot be executed.

Pickaway County Prosecutor Roy Huffer attended the Tuesday session of the hearing when Dr. John Vermeulen testified on Keaton's sanity. Vermeulen, who has examined Keaton several times in the past year, stated that the condition of the condemned murderer was seriously worsened. He stated that Keaton is chronically homicidal and suicidal.

Testimony was also entered by psychiatrists from Lima State Mental Hospital where Keaton was sent for observation. The psychiatrists stated that Keaton is ill, but they refrained from stating that he is insane.

Defense attorneys pointed out that insanity is a legal, not a medical term, regarding mental illness. However there are no legal definitions of insanity in the laws of Ohio, according to Judge Gessaman.

In addition to the slaying of Francis, a Columbus factory worker living in Pickaway County, Keaton has been charged with the slayings of three men in Dayton.

Sirhan Lawyer Again Attacks Jury System

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A new attack on selection of the grand jury which indicted Sirhan Bishara Sirhan in the Robert F. Kennedy murder is planned by defense attorney Grant B. Cooper.

Cooper indicated he would try to prove the grand jury was improperly chosen by a "blue ribbon" system by which judges recommend the members. Such a method fails to produce a broad cross-section of the people, Cooper said.

A plan to question Los Angeles County's 133 superior court judges was discussed Tuesday at a meeting between the defense, prosecution and trial judge, Herbert V. Walker.

Cooper said later, "We discussed details on the motion to quash the grand jury indictment. We decided to give the judges questionnaires to fill out instead of calling all of them as witnesses."

28 Escape Fire In Cincinnati Apartment House

CINCINNATI (AP) — Eight adults and 20 children escaped safely early today from a four-family dwelling after a passing policeman noticed the fire and ran into the house to awaken the occupants.

Patrolman Louis Niehaus was driving along State Avenue, about two miles northwest of the downtown district, when he spotted the fire.

Among those he awakened were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sargent and their six children. Sargent and a four-year-old daughter, Anna, suffered slight injuries.

Freezing Rain Hits Eastern Seaboard Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Freezing rain, sleet and fog plagued motorists in the eastern third of the country today while snow and cold weather spread into a large part of the West.

Travelers warnings were in effect throughout the night along the Appalachians from the Carolinas to New York as the same weather pattern which closed schools and hampered the Midwest Tuesday slid onto the eastern seaboard.

Rain and fog extended into the Southeast below the glazed region. Rain also washed portions of the Great Lakes region and the Gulf Coast.

Most of the intermountain region of the West received warnings to travelers for locally heavy snow and gusty winds. The areas involved included portions of seven states from southern Idaho into Arizona and New Mexico.

Bitterly cold weather stalled over the northern Rockies for nearly two weeks once more spread through much of the Pacific Northwest and a large part of the northern half of the Great Plains.

Great Falls, Mont., was locked in its longest period of subzero cold on record. The mercury has failed to rise above -10 there since Jan. 17. Havre, just below the Canadian border northeast of Great Falls, registered 28 below at midnight.

Rain fell in mud and flood-ravaged sections of California again Tuesday, but amounts generally were light compared with recent downpours and skies cleared at Los Angeles and San Francisco during the night.

Living Cost Rise Highest In 17 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rise in living costs slowed in December with an increase of two-tenths of one per cent, but 1968 still wound up with the sharpest annual hike in 17 years, totaling 4.7 per cent, the government said today.

The Labor Department's consumer price index ended the year at 123.7, meaning it cost $123.7 last month for every $100 worth of typical family purchases in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, which supplied the figures, also reported that the average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose 5.5 per cent last year but "increases in consumer prices eroded most of this gain."

Most of last month's increase in living costs was due to a six-tenths of one per cent rise in food prices and a five-tenths hike in housing costs.

The bureau also reported an increase of two-tenths of one per cent in wholesale prices in December and a preliminary estimate of another eight-tenths this month, which would be the largest in three years.

The 1968 rise of 4.7 per cent in living costs was the largest since the Korean War year of 1951 when federal wage-price controls were finally imposed to halt the rapid climb.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, declined to endorse the prediction of former President Lyndon B. Johnson's outgoing Council of Economic Advisors that the price rise would slow to about three per cent this year.

Welfare Cost Is Outlined By Auditor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It cost $163,098,525 to finance Ohio's welfare programs during the first half of fiscal 1969, State Auditor Roger Cloud said today.

A detailed audit by Cloud's office showed that the 10 large urban counties reported aggregate expenditures of $112.3 million or 68.8 per cent of the statewide welfare requirements.

These counties were: Cuyahoga $33.3 million; Franklin $19.7 million; Hamilton $18.3 million; Lorain $2.6 million; Lucas $11.6 million; Mahoning $4.4 million; Montgomery $8.1 million; Stark $3.7 million; Summit $7.8 million and Trumbull $2.2 million.

Biggest item in the expenditures was for Aid to Dependent Children — $50.3 million or 30.8 per cent of the total cost of all programs.

The same counties accounted for $39.9 million or 79.3 per cent of total expenditures for the ADC program. These included Cuyahoga $14 million; Franklin $6.6 million; Hamilton $5.7 million; Lorain $968,993; Lucas $3.7 million; Mahoning $1.3 million; Montgomery $2.9 million; Stark $98,976; Summit $2.8 million and Trumbull $781,376.

Cloud said that with 55,562 cases and 220,925 recipients, the average allotment per case under the ADC program was $151 per month.

Report Venice Near Destruction From Ocean

VENICE (AP) — An Italian government commission said Tuesday Venice will be destroyed by high tides in 20 years unless its lagoon is partially drained.

Prof. Antonio Franco, head of the commission, said Venice sank almost four inches between 1904 and 1952, then submerged another two inches from 1952 to 1961.

He predicted the city of gondolas would sink another eight inches by 1990, while the water level would rise four inches in the same period.

This would carry Venice under six-foot high tides, completely ruining its buildings, said Franco.

Solo Seafarer Sprains Back

LONDON (AP) — British seaman John Fairfax radioed today that a strained back muscle has forced him to temporarily stop rowing the 22-foot boat in which he is trying to cross the Atlantic to Florida.

In a message to the London Daily Sketch, Fairfax said he had covered 160 miles since leaving the Canary Islands 12 days ago. But he said his boat, Britannia, is drifting on a sea anchor while he waits for his muscle strain to mend.

"I am very cold and it's very windy," the 31-year-old seaman said. But he insisted he would soon press on with his 3,500-mile voyage.

Power Failure Hits Florida

Grid System Plays Hopscotch

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A million-kilowatt generator failure Tuesday sent a blackout hopscotching Florida leaving some Floridians snarled at lightless intersections and others dining by candlelight.

The failure occurred at 6:08 p.m. at Florida Power and Light Company's huge Port Everglades generating plant here.

The intricate system of grids by which power is fed from generating stations to consumers spread the blackout as far away as Daytona Beach, St. Petersburg and Fort Myers, while it left many closer areas unaffected.

A power company spokesman said there was no way of telling how many homes and businesses lost their power. However, reports from several larger cities had thousands of consumers out of power.

St. Petersburg reported up to 15,000 homes were affected. Tampa had 11,000 homes blacked out. Both cities receive their electricity from companies other than FP&L, but power flickered out because of a drain on interconnecting lines.

Orlando had 35 per cent of its population in darkness for about half an hour. The blackout hit all but a small portion of tourist-jammed Daytona Beach.

Fort Lauderdale, hardest hit by the blackout, had no estimate of darkened homes. Service there was restored by 7:45 p.m. In most areas it took from 20 minutes to an hour to restore service.

But FP&L spokesmen said the situation could have been much worse. They said safeguards built into the power distribution system prevented a Southeast recurrence of the great blackout in the Northeast in 1965.

New Spy Trial May Trigger Retaliation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new mass spy trial was reported under way in Baghdad today as Iraq accused Israeli troops of massing to attack the 20,000 Iraqi troops stationed in Jordan.

Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported the new trial in Baghdad began Tuesday night behind closed doors. It said the defendants were accused of working for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

It did not mention the number of defendants, but London sources had reported earlier that 35 persons, 13 of them Jews, would be tried by Iraq's revolutionary court on charges of spying and sabotage.

In Baghdad, Information Minister Abdullah Salloum Samarra told a news conference Israeli forces were preparing to attack Iraq's forces in Jordan in reprisal for the public hanging Monday of nine Jews and five other Israelis convicted of spying for Israel.

The Israelis were enraged by the executions, and their government denied the victims had been spying for Israel. The executions also provoked varying degrees of condemnation in several foreign capitals.

"This is a purely internal affair with no room for intervention by any other country," Samarra said of the trials. Iraq already has announced its forces are in a state of military readiness for any Israeli reprisal.

The U.S. State Department announced it has urged Israel not to retaliate. Diplomats in Washington believe a reprisal raid coming so soon after Israel's trial.

Public Testimony In Pueblo Case Resumes

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — After four days of closed-door testimony, the Navy court of inquiry into the capture of the USS Pueblo returns to public session today with the admiral who had operational control of the intelligence ship on the stand.

Rear Adm. Frank L. Johnson, former commander of U.S. Naval forces in Japan, was called as the first witness.

Richard Fryklund, deputy assistant to the secretary of defense for public affairs, listened Tuesday as two Navy intelligence officials testified in secret. The Navy declined to divulge what they said, listing it as classified.

The Pentagon official told newsmen after the session that he flew from Washington, D.C., on his own initiative "because this Pueblo project has been my baby all along."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Department planners are budgeting a major drop in ammunition production through the end of 1970, the result of a shift in emphasis from the battlefield in Vietnam to the peace table in Paris.

The Pentagon is planning a $1.3 billion drop in orders for air and ground ammunition from its "hot production" base. The reduction will bring its ammunition budget to $6.1 billion in the budget year beginning next July. The current level is $7.4 billion.

The halt in the bombing of North Vietnam last November and a slackening of the ground war in the South allowed the lower production plans. Officials say they plan to keep ammunition factories going because it can take months to reopen a closed production line.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cheap hydrogen bomb set off by the intense light of a laser is a theoretical possibility, the Atomic Energy Commission says, but not until lasers become much more powerful.

"The capabilities of present lasers are hundreds or thousands of times lower than that considered by the AEC to even begin to be a cause for any concern in weapons or nuclear explosive device applications," one scientist said.

A laser bomb would be an H-bomb in which the intense heat of a laser—which concentrates a beam of light and can create high temperatures—would be used to touch off a hydrogen explosive. In present devices an atomic bomb is used as the trigger.

The subject was raised by an article in the current issue of "Scientist and Citizen," a magazine published by the St. Louis-based Committee for Environmental Information.

It said laser bombs might be manufactured secretly by countries that do not have the capabilities to manufacture the A-bomb trigger.

Short Truce For New Year Set By Saigon

To Be Less Than Declared By Viet Cong

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government indicated today that it would declare a truce for the lunar new year Feb. 17, but a far shorter one than the seven-day cease-fire announced by the Viet Cong earlier today.

The Viet Cong's National Liberation Front broadcast an announcement that the Communist military command "will stop all military activities" from 7 a.m. Saigon time Feb. 15 until 7 a.m. Feb. 22. The period is known as Tet, the festival of the lunar new year and the biggest holiday in the Vietnamese calendar.

The Viet Cong broadcast said any military operations by the United States, South Vietnam and their allies, including air, naval and artillery bombardment, would be considered a violation of the cease-fire and "must be punished."

Four hours after the broadcast, a spokesman for the South Vietnamese government said: "The Vietnamese government is willing to have a truce because Tet is a solemn occasion and for the happiness of the Vietnamese people." But he added that the truce "will not last very long if there is any."

U.S. forces will undoubtedly observe any cease-fire declared by Saigon, as they have all such truces in the past.

A Tet truce last year had just begun when the Viet Cong attacked more than 100 cities and towns including Saigon in their biggest offensive of the war. Although the government is expected to call some sort of cease-fire, it undoubtedly will try to avoid the wholesale relaxation which left its forces at 50 per cent strength or less when the enemy struck a year ago.

The anniversary of last year's offensive comes this Friday, and there has been speculation that the Viet Cong may attempt some action within the next few days to mark the occasion. But no major enemy activity was reported today.

Court Issues 308 Marriage Licenses

Marriage license report for 1968 has been issued by Pickaway County Probate Court.

The number of applications for licenses made in 1968 nearly duplicated the figure for the previous year. A total of 308 couples made applications in 1968; 309 in 1967.

Records for the current past year show that more persons were married at a younger age than in 1967. One exception was the 21-year age group.

Probate court issued 308 marriage licenses. 205 of the issued licenses were actually used.

Licenses were issued to 181 boys age 22 years and older; 44 to boys age 21 years; 26 to boys age 20 years; 25 to boys age 19 years; 23 to boys age 18 years; and four licenses to boys age 17 years with consent of juvenile court.

There were 116 licenses issued to girls age 22 years and older; 35 to 21-year-olds; 33 to girls age 20 years; 36 to girls age 19 years; 44 to girls age 18 years; 26 to girls age 17 years; 17 to 16-year-olds; and one to a 15-year-old with consent of juvenile court.

R-1 Toledo introduced a bill to exempt public utility holding companies from the franchise tax.

Cook said he felt "making a holding company pay the franchise tax in addition to excise taxes is double taxation."

At present, utility companies in Ohio pay a 3 per cent excise tax.

Cook said six electric companies, which want to form a holding company, asked him to sponsor the legislation. The companies are Toledo Edison, Ohio Edison, Dayton Power and Light, Cincinnati Gas and Electric, Cleveland Electric Illuminating and Duquesne Light Co. of Pittsburgh.

The Toledo Republican said the companies, five of which operate in Ohio, have indicated they would probably not locate a holding company in Ohio if they have to pay a franchise tax.

Cook said such a holding company would have to pay $4.2 million annually in franchise taxes. He said the companies would form a holding company in Pennsylvania for $200,000 or in Delaware for $100,000.

"And this would be a one-time cost for them," he said.

Cook said he felt the bill's chances of passage "are reasonably good" since he has received favorable reaction from "the administration and other people."

The House received a bill to provide a people's representative in all rate cases involving a utility.

State Rep. George E. Masties R-25 Cleveland introduced the bill to create a "public representative" who would attend hearings before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO).

Masties said that the public now has no representative fighting for its interest before the PUCO, but that "the public utilities are represented by large batteries of lawyers and experts."

The Cleveland Republican recently fought Ohio Bell Telephone Co. for its charges on special equipment such as the princess, trimline, color and touch-tone phones.

Masties said the fight resulted in a reduction of telephone charges that saved users approximately $1 million a year.

Antics In Semantics Mark Paris Conference - Er, Talks

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
PARIS (AP) — Sir, I am an American in Paris. Can you tell me what's going on here about Vietnam?

Well, we're gathering again Thursday around a round table to face issues squarely.

Q. Ah—a peace conference?
A. Absolutely not! The first thing a newcomer must learn is that you don't call this anything but talks.

Q. Why?
A. Well, if you call what goes on at the International Conference Center a conference, the Americans and South Vietnamese won't like it. A conference can mean that everybody present has the authority to confer. If you call it a meeting, the North Vietnamese and the National Liberation Front get mad at you. A meeting is an informal thing where anybody can throw in his two bits' worth. The NLF and Hanoi say it's a conference.

Q. I've heard there'll never be a meeting—excuse me—talks on a Wednesday. Why not?
A. Because the Americans and the South Vietnamese think that would be too much like a continuation of the preliminary American-North Vietnamese talks, which were always on Wednesdays.

Q. So what?
A. People would get the idea these are "enlarged" or "expanded" talks. Expanded from two to four sides.

Q. Aren't they?
A. Well, the Hanoi-NLF people say they are, but the Washington-Saigon people say they aren't. If you say "enlarged," it might mean that it has been enlarged from two sides to four sides.

Q. Hasn't it?
A. The Hanoi-NLF people say it has, but the Washington-Saigon people say there are still only two sides, themselves and the others. They say the NLF is a "reality" but not a "political entity."

Q. What should one call the talks, then?
A. New, full-scale or substantive talks. But not enlarged or expanded.

Q. Aren't there four delegations here?
A. Yes and No. Hanoi and the NLF say there are. Saigon and the Americans seem to accept the fact that there are four negotiators, but to say there are four delegations would mean that the NLF is independent enough to have its own delegation.

Q. Why is the table round?
A. If it were square it would have four sides, and four sides look like four delegations. A round table doesn't have sides marked off, so one group can say it has four sides and another can say it has two sides and both are right. The two rectangular tables, where the lesser staff sit, have sides. But if the rectangular tables are narrow enough, they can be said to have only two sides.

Q. When they go into the room, do four delegations go in or do two?
A. There are only two doors, so the Hanoi-NLF people use one and the Washington-Saigon people use the other. If there were four doors, there would have been the devil to pay.

Vo-Ed Program Details Delayed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An apparent lack of detailed planning, including financial arrangements, may be delaying public disclosure of the administration's vocational and technical training program.

A broad outline of the program was disclosed several weeks ago but specific information on how this would be implemented was expected at a news conference called for today by Finance Director Howard Collier.

The session was canceled. The explanation was that more time was needed to complete budget calculations.

Rocky May Make Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, passed over for a place in the Nixon Cabinet, has been asked by his former presidential rival to head a fact-finding mission to Latin America.

The White House confirmed Tuesday night that Rockefeller had been contacted on the subject in recent days.

But news secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said no firm decision has been made yet on whether to even send such a mission.

Rockefeller, whose family has extensive interests in Latin America and worked on some of the area's problems in the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt, said he was "seriously considering" the offer.

"We have budgetary difficulties and other problems in the state," Rockefeller said. "We must appraise the request and weigh my responsibility in the state."

Diplomatic sources said Nixon had decided U.S. policy toward Latin America needed a "thorough re-examination" in the light of a trend toward military dictatorships.

Three have taken over in the past four months—in Peru, Brazil and Panama.

The mission also could have a useful byproduct in serving to take some heat off the new administration. Despite difficulty in filling many top posts throughout the government, there has been some criticism of Nixon that his failure to bring in top Latin specialists indicated a lack of interest in the area.

Old-Line Communists Gain Upper Hand With Czechs

By PETER REBAK
Associated Press Writer

VIENNA (AP) — Signs are multiplying that orthodox pro-Soviet Communists are gaining the upper hand in occupied Czechoslovakia and Alexander Dubcek's liberal reformists are not likely to stop them.

Backed by an estimated 100,000 Soviet occupation troops, the conservatives' new strength is evident in an active propaganda campaign and bold public statements that have increased in frequency in recent days.

Their latest move is an attempt to discredit the death of student Jan Palach, who immolated himself to protest the Soviet occupation and the resulting curbs on freedom of the press.

In pamphlets and speeches the conservatives claim that the liberal reformists forced Palach to commit suicide for the sake of propaganda. Some even claim he was murdered.

Their charges were picked up by the orthodox Communist press in Hungary. Newspapers in other countries with pro-Moscow ruling parties are expected to follow suit.

Conservative statements are getting more space in the Czechoslovak press and more radio time than in the months immediately following the Aug. 20-21 invasion by Soviet troops.

The conservatives' message is clear. They blame political dissent on the reformists and warn that opposition to the party line must stop.

"The basis of the problems which cause nervousness and helplessness among many comrades is that since last January the Central Committee has set a certain line, certain duties and concepts. Other demands were announced, outside this line and against the concepts of the party, which are often formulated like ultimatums," said Deputy Premier Lubomir Strougal, a leading conservative.

Try and Stop Me

At a news conference in the White House, shortly before the inauguration of John F. Kennedy, a reporter asked President Eisenhower, "Are you aware, Mr. President, that on your upcoming birthday you'll be the oldest man ever to hold this exalted office?" The President answered ruefully, "I believe it's a tradition in baseball—and I'm all for it—that when a pitcher has a no-hitter going, nobody on the bench reminds him of it."

Something To Think About . . . Tea Is For Me

By JEAN CRIST

Hot, iced or spiced, tea is for me. It has long been my favorite beverage because of its delicate flavor, its clear, sparkling appearance and the fact that a cup of this mysterious brew will either calm ruffled feathers or perk up a weary body, whichever is needed. Also, tea has no unpleasant aftereffects which cannot be said for some beverages.

It has been my experience to find that although most restaurants accommodate tea drinkers, they don't really accept them. In the majority of eating establishments the tea drinker must be on her guard immediately to keep that "brand X" stuff from being poured in her cup as soon as she is seated. She puts her hand over the cup and looking apologetically at the waitress, expresses the desire for a pot of tea. Almost every time, the waitress looks as though she had eaten something which didn't agree with her but smiles thinly and agrees to the request. Half-way through dinner, while the others at the table have already had their cups re-filled with "brand X", you wait for your tea. Taking courage in hand, you repeat your request and finally your efforts are rewarded with some hot water and a 15-25 cent tea bag. I've never figured out why the tea bag costs so much in a restaurant and so little at home. I suppose it has something to do with the labor required to fill that little teapot and carry it to the table. Then, as dessert appears, the third cup of "brand X" is served around the table, and if you are lucky, you will be brought some more hot water. Now, if you are a novice at the game, don't be naive enough to expect another tea bag, for very seldom will this happen. You will have to take the half-dried bag that has been reclining on your saucer for thirty minutes and while no one is looking, mash it with your spoon against the side of the cup to try to squeeze some flavor out of it. Alas, the lot of a tea drinker is not easy, but we persist!

Wondering why this feeling bordering on animosity that seems to exist for tea drinkers in this country, I did a little reading about the history of tea in the world and I think I have found an answer to my question.

According to information gleaned from the all-knowing Encyclopedia Britannica, Japan and China are the chief tea drinking countries where tea itself originated. Tea has always been an important part of the oriental life. The ritual that attends the drinking of tea in these countries is far different from that of the Western countries. Tea was believed to have been cultivated in 350 B.C. in China, but the origin of tea is only legend, one of which is the story of the Japanese Buddhist saint named, Bodhiharma. It seems Bodhiharma remained seated before a wall, in meditation, for nine years. During one of his meditations, he fell asleep, and upon awakening, he was so ashamed at what he had done that he cut off his eyelids to assure no recurrence of his sin. Cast to the ground, the eyelids took root and grew as tea plants, whose leaves, when infused in hot water, produced a beverage that was capable of banishing sleep.

Continuing my reading, I found that tea was introduced to England in 1657 at a time when England was the greatest coffee drinking country in the world. The English East India Tea Company was established and introduced tea to England, where it rapidly became a favorite. The East India Company also introduced tea to the colonies and in their effort to perpetuate the tea monopoly they had established, were responsible for the Boston Tea party, which in turn contributed to the American Revolution. The colonists' resentment of the part tea played with the mother country created an unfavorable image from which America has never recovered.

There may be a great deal of truth in this assumption because it does seem "brand X" is regarded as traditionally American while tea is still looked upon as strictly an import. And although tea is very popular with most of the world, America remains the major hold out and it may quite possibly, though unconsciously, be due to that independent streak that created this country. And so, even though we are among the minority, my fellow cohorts, who are tea lovers, and I, shall continue to "bug" the waitresses, pay excessive prices and enjoy every last drop of our chosen brew.

Heyerdahl Plans Trip In Old Boat

OSLO (AP) — Thor Heyerdahl, who floated across the Pacific on a raft, said today he and six companions will try to cross the Atlantic in a papyrus boat modeled on those of the ancient Egyptians.

The Oslo newspaper Aftenposten published a copyrighted interview with the explorer in which he said the party would set out from Morocco toward the end of May. The destination will be South America, "somewhere between the Amazon and the West Indies."

In 1947, Heyerdahl and five other men crossed the South Pacific from Peru to Polynesia to prove that Polynesian culture could have originated in South America.

Now, he said, he wants to find out whether Central American culture could have originated in the Mediterranean. He said the pyramids in Mexico could indicate this, "but first I must prove that the people living in the Mediterranean area had the means to cross the Atlantic at that time."

Heyerdahl, who lives in Italy and was interviewed in Nice, France, said the boat will be built by a Negro expert from Chad, in central Africa. He said his crew would include the builder, a Russian doctor, a Bermuda Negro, an American, an Italian and a Frenchman. He did not identify them.

Deafness Is Cured

BRIDGWATER, England (AP) — Adrian Bennett has discovered the reason for the slight but persistent deafness in his right ear. He's had a cork in it for the past 20 years.

Adrian, 23, has been hard of hearing since he was three. Tuesday he went to a new doctor.

"The cork popped out when the doctor syringed my right ear," Adrian reported. "It was a quarter of an inch long and cylindrical like a cigarette filter."

"When the doctor told me I'd had a cork in my ear, I thought he was having me on. But then I realized that I was cured."

"I've asked my mother if she knows why I should have been going around with a cork in my ear, but she is as puzzled as I am."

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

school teacher, and two dozen of his neighbors.

Each, armed with a shovel or a wheelbarrow, was attacking a sea of thick, oozy mud that covered the floor of Dutton's foothills home.

In a bedroom, chairs and a table were encrusted with mud. The brown gooey stuff was four feet deep in places.

"Luckily, we knew it was coming and got the children roomed up with neighbors," Dutton said Tuesday. Most of the couple's furniture and clothing had been stored in the garages of friends.

A deluge of rain after eight days of downpours sent a wall of mud through the storm drain behind the Duttons' four-bedroom, ranch-style home in this Los Angeles suburb.

For two days Dutton, his wife Kay and neighbors with similar problems of their own have tried to get the sticky stuff out. There's still a mountain of mud in the backyard and mud 10 feet thick in the storm drain.

Volunteers, including some from Negro areas like Watts, have come here with shovels and offers to help in the digging out.

The Duttons had no insurance against mud damage. Like many Southern Californians who lived in the foothills or mountain areas that cluster around the more-populated valleys, they found it impossible to obtain. The same problem exists in those areas for protection against brush fires—the summer scourge—or landslides.

Mrs. Dutton said she and her husband discussed a declaration of bankruptcy "but he says we'll struggle along and tell our creditors not to expect too much right away." Much of the mud came through a large bedroom window after it was broken. The Duttons figure even more mud would have gotten into their home if they hadn't sandbagged the sliding glass doors in the living room.

There was little damage to the frame of the wood and brick home into which the Duttons moved last June. Several dozen other homes in Glendora were wrecked beyond repair.

The Duttons plan to live in an apartment with their two daughters, 11 and 12, and 14-year-old son until they can make their home livable again. It may take a month or two," said Dutton.

"Make that three months," he added, as it started to rain again outside.

R. E. Train Named Top Hickel Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russell E. Train, a prominent conservationist who resigned from the U.S. Tax Court to become president of the Conservation Foundation, has been appointed undersecretary of the interior.

Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel announced Train's appointment Tuesday, but said he had actually accepted the job in early January. The nomination must be confirmed by the Senate and Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Interior Committee, said hearings would be held promptly. He predicted that Train would receive a kind reception.

Train, 48, resigned from the Tax Court in 1965 to become head of the foundation, a non-profit organization concerned with environmental problems. He is a native of Washington, D.C.

Hickel said Train was chosen for "not only his interest in what is happening in America, but also what is happening to resources around the world, particularly in wildlife and conservation."

Asked if he believed in "conservation for conservation's sake"—a reference to Hickel's statement that he did not, which brought him criticism—Train replied, "I believe in conservation and I believe Secretary Hickel believes in conservation. We're in agreement on that."

Blue and Green Splash Together Without Clash

By ELEANOR ROSS
Color, color! Isn't it amazing what a splash of midnight blue will do to a pale green room. Or how a deep brown can wake up a pale yellow and entirely change the look of a room. Color magic, that's what it is! Isn't it wonderful, too, that colors that once seemed to clash — pink with red, for instance — are now accepted, and, indeed, preferred today. It's Everywhere

Color pervades our modern world in clothes, in furnishings, and in interior decor. We have discovered that color can do so much for a room — add accent, make it appear larger or smaller.

Let's reflect for a moment and see what we can live up with the artful use of paint. A plain no-nonsense white divider can become a color explosion with only a little time and effort. You can color it to match or contrast with your decor, and the choice of hues is literally limitless. If your room is white or off-white, almost any bright color will make a striking contrast. If the walls are darker, your cooler colors will be best.

Whatever color is chosen, the paint should be of the best quality. Your local dealer will be able to help you select the right paint and color for the desired effect.

Before the actual painting, be sure the divider is properly cleaned. Next, sand the surface lightly and see to it that it is thoroughly dust-free and dry before applying the paint.

Working with oil-base paint? An odorless thinner should be used, and you should be working in a well-ventilated room.

Generous Amount
Load your brush generously for application. Flow the enamel onto the surface in long smooth strokes; don't reload as you cross-stroke. Then, with your nearly dry brush, go over the surface once again, using long, smooth strokes. This will provide even coverage and eliminate any excess that might cause runs.

You don't have any dividers? Go out and buy one. More than likely, one room in the house can use it. Unpainted dividers are not expensive; and with a little paint, plus your own creativity, you will add something cool, calm, and conservative — or wild, wonderful, and perhaps way-out to your home, and you did it all yourself — with paint and an awakened sense of color.

Chairman for the occasion is Mrs. Richard Theis, assisted by Mrs. Anthony Contino, Mrs. David Chalmers, Mrs. Rita Hall, Mrs. W. J. Wheatley and Mrs. William Shanning.

Before opening a coconut, always use an ice pick to pierce the three depressions at one end of the nut. Drain out the milk. Put the nut in a moderate oven for about half an hour and cool; this way it will be easiest to open — though you'll have to use a hammer.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Eric Hoffer came into our homes for a second visit Tuesday night—full of ideas, of love for simple people, of scorn for what he calls intellectuals and bursting with vitality and excitement about the world around him.

As in his previous TV conversation, Hoffer was talking with Eric Sevareid. But conversation with the ebullient, self-educated San Francisco dockworker turned philosopher consists mostly of tossing a question and then leaning back to hear the ensuing torrent of words—good words, wise words, words that show a lot of thinking went into them.

Seated comfortably in his San Francisco home, Hoffer ranged in his discussion from big subjects to small. He slashed away at his critics, scorned the pretentious, told stories, swore like an infantryman—and nobody blipped one salty word from the tape.

Some Hoffer isms: "Fame means to be known by people who don't know you. Now, how in the hell are you going to get excited about that?" "Any time somebody comes around and tells me that he has to go to the top of a mountain to think, I feel like telling him, brother, you'd better sit right where you are. You ain't got nothing to think about."

"To me, an intellectual is a man of some education who considers himself a member of the educated elite with the God—

Missionary Society Meets

Christian Women's Missionary Society of the Northridge Church of Christ met recently at the church. Mrs. Denny Williams was hostess assisted by Mrs. Roger Thomas.

Marge Bergen, president, presided at the business session and led the group singing the theme song "Give Me A Vision!". Devotions were presented by Mrs. Williams on the subject of prayer.

Reports on missionaries were made and the group voted to support two new missionaries for the coming year. They are the Robert DeVold family of Kenai, Alaska, and the Clinton Looney family of Mexico. Rev. DeVold was formerly the minister of Northridge Church.

A thank you letter from Mrs. Leora Sayre and the children of the Brooks-Yates school was read.

Mrs. Bergen led the group in prayer to close the meeting. Refreshments were served in the basement rooms to the nine members attending.

Personals

Mrs. Ruth Norquist, Chicago, Ill., the former Bonnie Smith of Circleville, received a telephone call from her son, George Michael Haley, Stoutsville, from San Diego, Calif. He is completing basic training in the U.S. Marine Corps and will visit his mother and stepfather, Harley Norquist, in March.

How the Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

Rain continued over the state during the night with some thundershowers reported here and there over central and southern Ohio.

The rain will slacken off some and become intermittent during the day, and will be mostly in the form of drizzle with considerable fog tonight.

It will continue to be warm for the time of the year with the highs today ranging from near 50 in northern Ohio to near 60 along the Ohio River. Tonight's lows will be the near 40 degree mark in western Ohio, rising to near 50 in the extreme east portion of the state.

Thursday's highs will generally be in the 40s. The outlook for Friday shows mostly cloudy and colder weather in the offing for Ohio with snow flurries likely in the north portion of the state.

FORECASTS
OHIO—Cloudy and mild with intermittent rain tonight. Lows mostly in the 40s. Considerable cloudiness with occasional rain or drizzle Thursday and a little cooler most sections by evening.

Earlier NBC had a rather slow moving special showing the adventures and mishaps of the David Humphreys polar expedition of last year when the Australian explorer tried in vain to reach the North Pole during the long winter night.

It was a tale of bitter cold and physical suffering. The viewer's principal reward was some dramatic color shots of the Arctic icefield. It defeated the efforts of narrators and film editors to make the adventure seem more than a purposeless journey beset by frustrations and physical hardship.

Recommended tonight: "The Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour" CBS, 7:30-8:30 EST, premiere of a variety series starring the singer, with comedian Pat Paulsen and guest stars Bobbie Gentry, Tom and Dick Smothers.

Northern Irish Religious War Protesters Held

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Police rushed two leading Protestant extremists to jail today while Prime Minister Terence O'Neill prepared to face a vote of confidence.

Police arrested the Rev. Ian Paisley in a hospital lobby and took him to begin a three-month sentence on charges of unlawful assembly. Paisley protested that the police broke an agreement to give him time to consider an appeal.

Paisley went to the hospital for treatment of a hand cut Tuesday when he scuffled with police who tried to arrest him at his home.

Paisley's chief aide, Maj. Ronald Bunting, was arrested at dawn and taken to jail in his pajamas after police broke down his front door. The police said Bunting wouldn't let them in.

Sen. Thurmond's Wife A Slowpoke

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. and Mrs. Strom Thurmond have joined the jogging set, running up to two miles daily to keep trim.

Mrs. Thurmond, the former Nancy Moore, 22—who was Miss South Carolina in 1966—says her husband, who is 66, outruns her. "I try to keep up with him, but I can't quite do so... not yet," she says.

The South Carolina Republican senator has long been known as a physical fitness devotee.

Ruling On Church Fights Far-Reaching

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Supreme Court decision taking questions of religious doctrine and faith out of the nation's courtrooms likely will strengthen denominations facing local breakaways over such social issues as civil rights and the Vietnam war.

Another result from the decision may be to encourage national religious leaders and their churches to be even more outspoken on social matters.

The Monday decision dealt with a move in 1966 by two Presbyterian congregations in Savannah, Ga., to break away from the Presbyterian Church in the United States — Southern — and take the local church property with them.

A Chatham County jury found itself judging whether the parent church had departed from Presbyterian doctrine in supporting civil rights activists, civil disobedience as a last-resort tactic and Vietnam war dissent.

The jury decided the church had strayed and awarded the two local flocks assets worth $171,000.

The Supreme Court, in striking down judgment, said the Georgia hearing had inquired into "the very core of a religion" — church doctrine — and thereby ventured into an area declared offbounds to government by the Constitution.

Simply put, the high court decision, written by Justice William J. Brennan Jr., ruled that religious disputes ought to be settled within the religious family.

The parent bodies in such hierarchical denominations as the Presbyterian, the Episcopalians, Roman Catholics and the Lutherans already have great control over local church affairs.

The decision, therefore, would seem to make it almost impossible for dissident local branches to take church property in a break with national churches.

Obviously, local congregations, knowing they can't take the church building and the parsonage with them, will think long and hard before going off on their own.

The same would appear true of the Methodists, a connectional church with some local autonomy but administered in a hierarchical way. Like the Presbyterians, the Methodist face a breakaway in Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina caused by a difference in policies.

Commented John Wesley Lord, Washington — area bishop of the United Methodist Church: "This ruling of the Supreme Court would seem to strengthen the right of parent churches to control the equity, the property, in the event of a movement of dissidents in local churches."

The decision's impact on non-hierarchical churches — Baptists, Quakers, Unitarians and Jews, for instance — is less direct because their property is controlled locally.

And the ruling's prohibition on the settling of doctrine disputes in civil court would seem to apply to struggles between two factions of a congregation. These, too, would have to be settled internally.

The courtroom door is not completely closed to religious groups however.

A property dispute between a parent and branch church or between two church factions can be settled in a court so long as the civil courts don't inject themselves into what Brennan called "substantive ecclesiastical matters."

For example, he said, courts can resolve questions of "fraud, collusion or arbitrariness."

Or, as Justice John M. Harlan pointed out in a brief concurring opinion, they can enforce deeds or wills that lay down conditions limiting the way a church uses the property granted.

Find Woman 52, But Wrong 52

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Richard Brooks, a movie director, was filming a scene outside a striptease nightclub when he turned to an assistant and said, "We need a woman about 52."

He wanted someone to feed a parking meter in the background.

The assistant went into the nightclub and came out with Shari Scott, a 27-year-old exotic dancer.

She measures 52-28-39.

Although Brooks had meant he wanted a woman 52 years old, Shari did win a chance to appear in a scene of the movie.

Ohio Accident Figures Rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Insurance Institute reported Tuesday there were 209,712 reportable traffic accidents in Ohio in 1967, the last year for which complete figures are available.

A reportable accident is one causing injury, death or $100 or more property damage. The amount of damage caused by these accidents is estimated by the Ohio Department of Safety at $165 million.

John C. Winchell, executive director of the institute, said the reportable accidents increased 41 per cent and that damage has increased 50 per cent over statistics of five years ago. At the same time, motor vehicle registrations have increased only 26 per cent, from 4.5 million in 1962 to 5.8 million in 1967.

President To Seek Boost In Outlay To Fight Crime

By FRANK CORMIER Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon told Republican congressional leaders Tuesday he will soon ask Congress for extra money to combat crime, with emphasis on speedier court trials and unclogging of crowded courtroom calendars.

After Nixon conferred with the GOP chiefs for more than two hours, the party's Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said a supplemental appropriation to cover antirime activities between now and June 30 would be submitted by the President "shortly."

Dirksen said that in order to "bring crime to heel" there will have to be more judges and a large Justice Department staff. U.S. attorneys are so overworked, he reported, that people in their offices can devote an average of only 45 minutes to the preparation of a case for presentation in court.

Dirksen also complained that "you've got criminals running around on bail" awaiting trial for as long as three years "and in the interim they may commit two, three or four more crimes."

Nixon also is planning to apply a personal touch as boss of the federal bureaucracy and press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said before the chief executive is through he will have visited most if not all of the major departments.

After a lunch at the Senate Wednesday, for instance, Nixon will visit the State Department. Later in the week he plans a repeat of his Monday visit to the Pentagon.

Nixon's maiden news conference as President Monday drew high praise from Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Senate Democratic Whip Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

"He did very well," said Kennedy.

Mansfield said he was favorably impressed with the "tone, the tenor, the frankness" of responses by the President who marked almost exactly one week in office when he went before live radio and television in the East Room of the White House.

Czech Red Leadership Fight Seen

PRAGUE (AP) — Leaders of Czechoslovakia's conservative Communist faction beat the woods for domestic allies Tuesday in the showdown struggle shaping up with the liberal leaders still in control of the ruling Communist party.

Sources in the liberal camp said the conservatives, assured of the support of the estimated 100,000 Soviet occupation troops, are sounding out the Czechoslovak army and the workers' militia to find out where they stand.

The liberals have the solid backing of the trade unions, the cultural organizations and the students. Although the sources said the conservative feelers have drawn no definite reaction yet, the liberals were said to be far from optimistic about the outcome of the power struggle.

A speech by conservative Deputy Premier Lubomir Strougal, made public Monday night, called on the militiamen to help the Communist party "overcome hesitations, disorientation and disintegration tendencies."

The party's policy-making Presidium met until Monday night to "assess the general political situation." It issued a communique warning that "new provocations" were expected.

Prague remained tense as new reports came in of attempted self-immolations in the wake of student Jan Palach's suicide by fire.

The latest was a 17-year-old boy in Cheb, close to the West German border. He suffered second-degree burns Sunday before rescuers put out the fire. It was not known whether his motive was political.

Youths Steal Judge's Gavel

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — The crime situation must be getting serious — a judge's gavel and striking plate were stolen right from his courtroom here Monday night.

Area court Judge Clem F. Imfeld Jr. found the gavel and plate missing when he opened court Monday night. Butler county sheriff's deputy Charles Thomas told the judge they apparently had been taken between the time he placed them on the bench and the time Judge Imfeld entered. He also reported he had seen four youths in the courtroom but only two were there when court opened.

Banging his fist on the bench — there wasn't anything else to use — Judge Imfeld ordered an immediate investigation and Thomas started out to look for the two missing youths.

A short time later he saw them on an Oxford street with one of them handing the gavel and plate to the other. They fled but Thomas caught one of them and recovered the gavel and plate.

As a result, James D. McNamara, 19, listed as a Miami University student, was charged with petit larceny and he'll hear the gavel Thursday night when Judge Imfeld again holds court.

CHIN UP—For the woman who doesn't want to look down on anyone, apparently, is this Roberto Capucci evening frock in brilliant blue faulle shown in Rome.

Girl Fights The Pledge Of Allegiance

NEW YORK (AP) - A 17-year-old high school girl has appealed to the State Commissioner of Education not only to remain silent during the pledge of allegiance but to be allowed to either sit down or be excused from the classroom.

The appeal was filed Monday for brown-haired Dorothy Lynn, a senior at Jamaica High School in Queens, by the National Emergency Civil Liberties Committee.

Mrs. Ramona Ripston, codirector of the committee, described Miss Lynn as "a lovely, bright girl" who does not believe in God and objects to the "one nation under God" phrase in the pledge.

The girl's principal, Louis Schuker, in a letter to the Board of Education, described Dorothy as "a poor scholar who has failed most subjects."

Mrs. Ripston said Miss Lynn also believes "it is impossible for her to say there is liberty and justice for all in America today."

The school had agreed that the student could remain silent during recitation of the pledge but she was told to stand when a teacher noticed her sitting.

Negro Policemen Gain, But Still Have Troubles

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer

The Chicago police sergeant is black. He is well paid. And he is impatient for real equality on the force.

"At times, I feel almost like a brick in the structure of status quo," he said.

But after more than a dozen years on the Chicago police force, the sergeant isn't about to quit. For one thing, he earns $12,900 a year. Another reason may be equally compelling:

"It would be giving up ground gained," said the sergeant, who spoke on the condition that his name not be used.

Negroes are slowly, sometimes painfully, gaining numbers and status on big city police forces. A survey of more than a dozen major cities shows only five that have 10 per cent or more blacks on active duty. More than half these cities have less than 5 per cent.

Baltimore has more than doubled the total of Negroes on its police force in two years. Now 11 per cent of its force of 3,333 is Negro.

Boston has added 6 Negro policemen in the past 12 months—to a total of 60 among 2,600.

In Chicago, 17 per cent—about 2,000—of the police force of 11,700 is black.

Philadelphia's police commissioner claims the best Negro percentage of any big city, 22.8 per cent—1,400 on a force of 6,750.

In March 1968 there were 1,475 Negroes on New York City's force and the Guardians, an association of Negro policemen, says 200 to 300 have been added since. There are almost 33,500 policemen in New York City.

But Milwaukee, a focal point of racial turmoil, has fewer Negroes on its police force than two years ago, despite a recruiting campaign.

Responsibilities assigned to Negroes on big city police forces have been expanding, also at an uneven rate.

"Only seven years ago, we couldn't have possibly put a Negro officer on duty at 12th and Main"—the heart of Kansas City's downtown business district, said Capt. E. L. Willoughby, head of personnel. "There wasn't even a place that would serve him food and the public would not have cooperated with him."

Now:

"We have Negro officers in every division I can think of," Willoughby said. "They're in patrol cars, detectives, communications—even the K-9 Corps—and one is a helicopter pilot. They work in every part of the city."

Being a policeman is a relatively new role for the Negro male. In many cities, he became a prime target for intense recruiting only after racial disorders awakened officials to the need for better relations between the police and the Negro community.

The National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders said the "bad image of police in the Negro community" was one reason why more Negroes weren't policemen.

In some black communities that image may still be troublesome.

"They have no love for you," said Officer Willie J. Cunningham, 31, a recent addition to the San Francisco force, which includes 1,718 whites and 77 Negroes. "They think they'll have just as much trouble with black officers. They tend to think of you as a bigger 'pig.'"

The stigma, said the Rev. Kenneth Bowen, a Negro minister serving as community relations specialist for the Milwaukee, Wis., police, is traceable in part to the rural South.

Substantial numbers of Negro families have roots there, and bitter memories of hostile police treatment, Bowen said.

"Then up here, they see police ride around with shotguns in their cars, or see them bust a boy over the head, or poke a woman in the ribs for not moving from a bus stop. All this does is entrench and harden already bad concepts of a policeman."

It isn't always easy for a Negro policeman to arrest another Negro, especially when he is one of only a handful of Negroes on the force.

"Don't go playing the white man's game" is the advice sometimes given to Charlotte's Negro officers in arrest situations, said that department's

The Circleville Herald, Wed. Jan. 29, 1969 community relations officer, Rudy Torrance.

"You just have to turn him off by saying, 'Yes, I'm your color but I'm not your kin.'"

There may be reason to believe that eventually black militants will no longer discourage Negroes from joining police forces.

"They still come around," said Patrolman Elton Huff, 28, a Baltimore policeman for the last eight months. "We still have parties and get together. Only thing they do is constantly remind me which cause they have and remind me not to kick it."

"The name calling has ceased," said the Chicago sergeant. "The vocal expressions like 'Uncle Tom' have lost their flamour."

"There seems to be a new maturity, an understanding that says, 'We'd rather have you there than one of them.'"

Her Own Backyard

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — American authoress Helen Neal, of Washington, D. C., visited South Africa to gather facts for a biography of South African-born writer Charles William Ryall, who wrote under the name of William Bolitho.

She managed to trace some relatives of the author and discovered Bolitho's daughter, Mrs. Camilla Robinson, lives in Virginia, only ten miles away from Washington. Ryall died in Avignon, France, in 1930.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Love Sickness Can Be Helped

DEAR ABBY: I am a minister who has gotten a lot of good ideas for my sermons from your column, but I must disagree with you. A woman wrote that she had "fallen in love" with her pastor, and couldn't keep from thinking some thoughts she shouldn't entertain while sitting in church. You advised her to transfer to a sister congregation without telling her pastor the reason. Abby, we clergymen are aware that some of our parishioners do fall in love with us, and we are trained to cope with that situation. It happened to me, and with the help of a psychiatrist I was able to set the lady straight. I would have suggested that the woman confess to her pastor how she feels about him. Then I would recommend that she see a psychiatrist, and together they can work her problem thru. If she follows your advice and transfers to another congregation she will have the same feeling.

NO NAME PLEASE
DEAR NO NAME: Unfortunately not every clergyman is trained to cope with the above situation. Neither would every woman who "falls in love with her pastor" agree to confess her feelings to him, then consult a psychiatrist and "work her problem thru."

I still think the lady would do well to follow my advice. DEAR ABBY: I have been criticized for giving a relative a vacuum cleaner for a wedding present. Will you please tell me what is wrong with such a gift? Granted it is not as glamorous as silver or crystal, but in my opinion it is a lot more useful for a newly wedded couple who are just starting out in housekeeping.

I would like your opinion IN PRINT, please, but withhold my name. PRACTICAL DEAR PRACTICAL: Good for you! It's good to know there are practical folks like yourself who refuse to get sucked into giving gifts that are more ornamental than useful.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for saying that some working mothers have better behaved children than some stay-at-home mothers. It is the quality—not the quantity of time spent with children that counts. I am not a working mother, but the daughter of one. I'm not bragging, but I think my brothers and sisters and I (there are four of us, are very well brought up. We are all proud of our mother and wouldn't do anything to upset or disappoint her. We each have our duties and do them without having to be reminded.

We see more of our "working" mother than some of our friends see of their mothers who are so wrapped up in their clubs and organizations that they don't have time for their own children.

One I know is so busy helping "underprivileged" children, that her own have run completely wild. I am 17, and the youngest OTTAWA (AP) — The honeymoon is over for bachelor Pierre Elliott Trudeau.

After nine months in office, Canada's prime minister is under fire.

His performance at the British Commonwealth conference in London was disappointing to many. Some were disturbed by his limited participation and some by his outburst at the press for its reports on his dates.

Until then the 49-year-old Trudeau had enjoyed undiminished greatful for their expressions of sympathy, contributions and the beautiful flowers. She also appreciated the kindness of Max Porter and the Rev. Tucker.

public support and had escaped serious criticism, even from his political opponents.

As recently as December an article in Maclean's magazine declared that the "prime minister is stronger today than he was last June."

The question now being asked is whether this appraisal will stand up in the coming months.

Want Gripe Session

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Bowling Green State University faculty members, irked by recent state proposals regarding higher education, called Tuesday night for a meeting of representatives of all state universities to discuss the propositions.

The faculty senate said it is alarmed by the lack of faculty involvement in the state's handling of its universities.

There has been no measurable public reaction, but both the press and the politicians have challenged Trudeau's London role.

The most dramatic manifestation of this challenge was in Canada's House of Commons, where political foes reprimanded Trudeau for his publicized dates and for what Conservative leader Robert Stanfield described as "his attitude of casual noninvolvement and non-commitment."

The chief complaint of Conservative leader Stanfield had been that Trudeau was complacent because of his comfortable majority in Parliament and that, as a result, his lengthy policy reviews dragged on while major decisions were delayed. Trudeau's Liberal party holds 155 of the 264 seats in the House of Commons and seems to be sure of staying in power for three or four years no matter what happens.

At any rate, Trudeau doesn't seem much concerned. His approach is to take a long, fresh look at all existing policies—including foreign policy—before midspring, approximately one year after he succeeded Lester

Pearson as Liberal party leader and prime minister. Although he became head of the government in April, most of the time between then and the end of June was devoted to the election campaign.

Canadians are still waiting for concrete proposals to implement the "Just Society" promised in the campaign. They are looking to a new constitutional conference in February to see whether he has an acceptable formula for Quebec's future role in Canada.

While the policy reviews are taking place, Trudeau has devoted much of his time to putting into effect a new set of rules to streamline parliamentary procedures. He also has revamped Cabinet procedures and made important changes in the operations of the prime minister's office.

Vote For Cloture

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both of Ohio's Senators were in agreement in Tuesday's unsuccessful vote to cut off debate in the fight over its antifilibuster rule.

Democrat Stephen M. Young and Republican William B. Saxbe both voted in favor of ending debate. The final Senate vote was 50-42 for ending debate, but the measure needed a two-thirds majority to pass.

Man Dead By Choice

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Ron Frederickson couldn't take what he considered the futility of life tied to a kidney machine.

Last Wednesday the 33-year-old blind, pain-ridden diabetic signed a waiver removing himself from further treatment. He died Monday.

Only a week ago he told his wife Karen, 24, that he was "ready to die."

"I could put up with the blindness and even the pain but the futility—I mean being inactive and with no chance to do anything—this is the worst of all," he said.

For nearly three years, both Frederickson and his doctors knew the diabetic condition which caused his kidney condition would be fatal.

His life expectancy with machine treatments might have been a few weeks or months.

"I tell you I'm not afraid of death," Frederickson told Minneapolis Star columnist Jim Klobuchar. Do you know how I feel. I'm kind of excited. Some time ago I became what I think is a real Christian. I now really believe this is just a beginning."

Mrs. Frederickson is the only immediate survivor.

Area Basketball Action Centered At County Schools

With the basketball season nearing its end, the weekend schedules are getting a little lighter.

Westfall and Laurelville clash Friday in a key Scioto Valley Conference title. Teays Valley hosts Franklin Heights Friday in Metropolitan League action and on Saturday has its annual game with Logan Elm.

Zane Trace, the second ranked team in the state class A basketball poll, hosts Adena Friday in a Ross County League tilt.

The Mustangs finally came out of a three game tailspin Saturday with a 75-70 decision over Circleville. They are 10-3 for the season and 3-1 in the SVC.

LOGAN Elm, already finished with league play, has assured itself of no less than a share of the basketball title.

Westfall must defeat the visiting Wildcats and win at Pikeston Feb. 8 to share the SVC crown. All other teams in the league have lost at least two games.

Westfall will have to stop Laurelville's high scoring honor student, Mike Kneecce. Kneecce is averaging 22 points a game and has a high effort this season of 32.

The senior Wildcat guard has not been held to less than 12 this season. Mike Shaw is the second leading scorer. A junior, he has a total of 206 points for an average of 13 points per tilt.

Dave Bernard, Marty Unger and Gerald Disbennett have all proven capable of double figure performances.

Four of Westfall's five starters are averaging in double figures this year. Junior Greg Bigam is averaging just over 30 points a game.

Tiger Junior High, Frosh Cage Teams Top Lancaster

The Circleville Freshmen and Junior High basketball teams both won games Tuesday at Lancaster Sherman.

The frosh won, 52-38, after overcoming a 13-10 first quarter deficit. The junior high squad came alive in the last quarter, winning 42-29.

Jim Neal led the balanced effort for the freshmen. He scored eight points from the field and two from the charity stripe for a total of 18.

Don Valentine notched two and Rick Blankenship 10 for the winners. Circleville's front line of Blankenship, Valentine and Wolfe did a good job of controlling the rebounds. Blankenship and Valentine both pulled nine missed shots down and Wolfe 10.

"It was our best team effort and the most points we have scored this year," Frosh Coach Dannie Fouts said.

Circleville made 21 of 43 shots from the field, a 49 per cent average, and 10 of 17 shots from the charity stripe, a 59 per cent average.

Lancaster was 12 of 18 from the foul line, a 67 per cent accuracy mark. The frosh have a 5-4 record for the year and play Chillicothe Mt. Logan Feb. 6 in the Mill Street gymnasium.

The Tiger seventh and eighth graders have a perfect 8-0 record. Yesterday, Dave Truex pitched in the first 13 markers for the junior high and finished the game with a 30 point total, one more than the entire Lancaster Sherman squad.

Brian Barthelmas and Tommy Taylor scored four each, Billy Halstenberg and Greg Hoskins two each.

"I was real pleased with the way Truex shot and rebounded," coach Darrell Young commented. "And Billy Halstenberg and Dave Mahalik both did a good job on the boards."

From the field, Circleville made 28 per cent of their shots. At the foul line they had a 63 per cent average. The little Tigers committed 25 turnovers.

The junior high plays at Ashville Tuesday.

Pro Grid Leagues To Complete Draft Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The Buffalo Bills, hoping to turn pro football's worst record into one of its best, looked ahead to signing O.J. Simpson today while they and 25 other teams completed the two-day draft of college players.

The Bills, whose 1-12-1 record earned them the right to draft first Tuesday, selected Simpson, and both parties promptly agreed they anticipated no trouble in reaching an agreement.

"I think we'll be able to sign him all right," Buffalo owner Ralph Wilson said.

"I don't contemplate any trouble in coming to terms," said the Heisman Trophy running back from Southern California.

Following the Bills' initial selection, the American and National leagues waded through seven rounds of their third common draft, selecting a total of 182 players in 12 hours, 11 minutes.

They had 10 more rounds today before turning their attention to contract negotiations.

There were, of course, other college stars besides Simpson drafted.

For example, there were four other running backs picked in the first round—Leroy Keyes of Purdue by Philadelphia, Larry Smith of Florida by Los Angeles, Ron Johnson of Michigan by Cleveland and Calvin Hill of Yale by Dallas.

Smith was one of three Los Angeles choices in the opening round, the others being split end Jim Seymour of Notre Dame and tight end Bob Klein of Southern California, while Hill was one of two Ivy League players to be taken, the other being quarterback Marty Domres of Columbia, who now belongs to San Diego.

Quarterback Greg Cook of Cincinnati also was drafted in the first round, by the Cincinnati Bengals, but All-American Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame was left until Pittsburgh grabbed him in the second round.

The Bills, of the AFL, intend to convince Simpson he's going with a good organization, too. O.J. had said repeatedly during the season he wanted to go with an NFL team.

Asked about that feeling following his selection, he said, "I prefer the NFL because I think it's a stronger league overall. But the Super Bowl showed the AFL is not that far behind."

He also was asked about the $600,000 he reportedly wants to sign.

"I haven't heard of that particular figure, and I don't believe that is it," replied the man who smashed the major college rushing record last season by gaining 1,709 yards.

"They want to get this settled quickly, and that is how I feel, too. Coach John Rauch wants to talk football right away. His idea is to get together with me right away to go over plans for next year. He won't talk business, just football."

It's up to owner Wilson to talk business, and Wilson said he thought he and his prize would agree to terms soon, perhaps in less than two weeks.

The Bills hope Simpson's selection signals the start of their climb back towards the top of the AFL. They once were there—they won the league championship in 1964 and 1965 plus the Eastern Division title in 1966—but they plummeted to 4-10 in 1967 and won only one game last season.

In drafting for needs, the 26 teams obviously saw different weaknesses than they had last year at this time. In the 1968 draft, 13 of the first 25 picks were linemen, offensive and defensive.

This time nine linemen were selected in the first round—tackles George Kunz of Notre Dame by Philadelphia, Rufus Mayes of Ohio State by Chicago and Dave Foley of Ohio State by the New York Jets; defensive tackles Bill Stanfill of Georgia by Miami, Richie Moore of Villanova by Green Bay, Joe Greene of North Texas State by Pittsburgh and Art Thoms of Syracuse by Oakland, guard John Shinnery of Xavier and defensive end Fred Dryer of San Diego State by the New York Giants.

Two other early first-round choices were spit end Ron Sellers of Florida State by Boston and tight end Ted Kwalick of Penn State by San Francisco.

The 49ers also got another receiver on the first round, flanker Gene Washington of Stanford.

Among the name players drafted were running back Paul Gipson of Houston by Atlanta, defensive end Ted Hendricks of Miami, Fla., by Baltimore, flanker Jerry LeVias of Southwestern Methodist by Houston, quarterback Bobby Douglass of Kansas by Chicago and flanker Richmond Flowers of Tennessee by Dallas, all in the second round.

Ohio State On Top In Big 10 After Beating Illini, 76-67

By HAL PARIS

Associated Press Sports Writer COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State is on top of the Big Ten standings but the conference basketball race "is still wide open."

Buckeye Coach Fred Taylor made that observation Tuesday night after Ohio finally shook off stubborn Illinois in the last few minutes for a 76-67 victory.

The decision boosted the Bucks to a 12-2 seasonal showing and a 4-0 league mark, a half game better than Purdue's 3-0 record. But the Buckeyes must face the rugged Boiler-makers at Lafayette Saturday.

Ohio parlayed Dave Sorenson's 30-point outburst and a sticky zone defense to repel the visitors, who were losing only their second in 14 outings.

"That Sorenson is a heckuva player," Taylor said. "He is a lot better, a lot stronger than he was a year ago."

Sorenson canned seven of 10 from the field in the first half and added five of eight in the second half for a torrid 67 per cent. He also swished in all six free throws.

The Bucks took the lead for good with 18 minutes to play but could never muster more than a five point edge. Ohio led only 62-61 with 4:12 to play but outscored the Illini 10-2 in the next couple of minutes to clinch it.

Jim Clemons contributed three key baskets in that final spurt, the last following a brilliant steal.

"We went to a zone because we thought we could do a better job rebounding," Taylor said. The Bucks won the battle of the boards, 37-29, and Illinois Coach Harv Schmidt called it the difference.

Elsewhere, in Ohio, Cincinnati crushed Bradley 82-62 in a Missouri Valley contest; Baldwin-Wallace topped Wooster 85-76 in an Ohio Conference clash; Defiance shaded Otterbein 60-57; Gannon romped over Steubenville 104-74; Ohio Northern clipped Bluffton 57-44 and Cedar ville walloped Kentucky Southern 92-70.

Rich Robertson bagged 27 and Jim Ard scored 21 as Cincinnati ripped Bradley in a game at Peoria that ended with a fist fight.

The Bearcats kept their hopes alive for a MVC title with a 4-3 record and are now 12-4 on the season.

Ted Johnson set a B-W record for consecutive free throws at 28 as the Yellow Jackets pushed their OC mark to 6-2 for second place in the league.

Wooster's Tom Dinger led all scorers with 27.

Bruce McDonald fired in 34 to pace Cedarville and Ohio Northern, behind Tom Ross' 16, led Bluffton all the way. Defiance upset Otterbein as Dan Terhune led the attack with 18. Don Manly tossed in 21 for the losing Otters.

Steubenville was no match for Gannon and slipped to a 2-13 record.

Government Mortgage Rate May Bring Usury Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's new directive on government-insured mortgage rates presents several states with a peculiar problem — the interest payments authorized by the federal government violates their usury laws.

In a White House meeting Tuesday, George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, reported the apparent conflict between the 7½ per cent federal allowances and the interest rate limits imposed by seven states.

Romney announced Friday, that federal rates were being raised to 7½ per cent in order to keep money flowing into the house market.

The states with laws forbidding interest as high as 7½ per cent are Michigan, where Romney was governor, Illinois, New York, Iowa, North Carolina, South Carolina and North Dakota.

No special action is planned on the matter, a Housing and Urban Development spokesman said later, since Romney's order set only the upper limit on rates.

The spokesman said mortgage lenders in states involved will not be able to charge the maximum interest. In some other states, he said, the one-half per cent loan insurance fee charged by the Federal Housing Administration and other mortgage charges could raise the new rate above permissible levels.

"The mortgage lender has to watch out for this," the spokesman said. "It's quite a complex thing."

Police Recover Stolen Auto

Circleville Police recovered a stolen car at 2 p.m. yesterday and arrested three juveniles implicated in the theft of the auto from Yates Motor Co.

The car was found by Chief of Police Robert Temple and Safety Director Robert Adkins following a tip by City Policeman Jim Francis that it was just outside the city limits.

The car was found near the fertilizer plant at the Canal Road and Route 22. The youths have been referred to the Pickaway County juvenile authorities.

Extend Court Martial For Mutiny

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Continuances were granted six young soldiers accused of mutiny when their court martial convened Tuesday at the Presidio of San Francisco.

The soldiers are among 27 stockade prisoners accused of mutiny after a sit-down at a morning roll call in the Presidio stockade Oct. 14.

The trial began after a brief demonstration outside the gates of the Presidio.

Military police stopped about 100 demonstrators who tried to enter a group, but they were admitted singly and in pairs and regrouped outside the small white building where the court martial began.

The trial of five of the soldiers was continued until Thursday morning after their military and civilian attorneys argued they had not had sufficient time to prepare.

The five are Privates Ricky L. Dodd, 21, of Hayward, Calif., Edward O. Yost, 23, of Elmira, Calif.; Lawrence J. Zaino 21 of Toledo Ohio; Lawrence W. Reidel, 20, of Medford, Ore., and Louis Oszcepinski, 21, of Florida, N. Y. The trial of the sixth soldier PFC John D. Collip, 20, of Sacramento, Calif., was continued until Feb. 17 after his civilian attorney, Ronald Sypnicki, said he would be involved in other court action for some time.

The sit-down came three days after a stockade prisoner, Pvt. Richard Bunch of Dayton, Ohio, was killed by a guard when he attempted to walk away from a work detail.

The Army ruled his death justifiable homicide. The sit-down reportedly was to protest Bunch's death and stockade conditions.

The mutiny charge was brought against the prisoners despite the report of the Army's investigating officer who said the Army was "overreacting."

The officer, Capt. Richard Milard, recommended prosecution on the lesser charge of willful disobedience. The continuances were granted after defense attorneys argued they had not been informed until Jan. 15 that the men actually would be charged with mutiny.

The charge was referred to trial as a non-capital offense. The court may impose any sentence up to life imprisonment.

Amanda Woman Hurt In Wreck

An Amanda area woman was injured after she lost control of her car on Route 159 near Boggs Road about 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Taken to Berger Hospital for emergency treatment was Diana Wetherell, 25, Route 2, Amanda, suffering lacerations and contusions to the head, slight concussion and multiple abrasions.

The vehicle was northbound on Route 159 when Mrs. Wetherell lost control of her car. The car went off the right side of the road, through a fence, struck a guy wire, hit an electric pole eight feet above the ground and then bounced back into the field, according to a report by State Patrolman R. A. Schroer.

The car was heavily damaged, according to the report. The incident is still under investigation.

Motorcycle Rider Roars Through Halls
WOODSIDE, Calif. (AP) — A motorcyclist seeking to escape police roared through a doorway to Woodside High School and then sped up and down corridors Tuesday. Scores of students scattered or flattened themselves against walls, police said.

Allan D. Martin, 17, of nearby Palo Alto, was charged with 12 traffic violations, assault and battery, and resisting arrest. Police said they originally wanted to stop him on charges of going the wrong way on a one-way street.
